Opportunities for All	in-school interventions, Activity Agreements and related learning provision	√	√	√	√	√	The current number of young people on Activity Agreements is 49. Approximately 25 more young people are engaged with Key Workers, but are not yet ready to complete Activity Agreements. There is no Activity Agreement target for 2012-13, but a clear target to ensure that all young people leaving school are engaged and supported to the most appropriate destination	Numbers are growing quickly. Planning for 2012 school leavers is based on the assumption that all those leaving school for whom Activity Agreements are appropriate will be engaged and supported. This is a challenging target both in relation to key Worker capacity and capacity to make appropriate learning provision. The confirmation of SG grant and outcome of local budget discussions will be critical to ensuring that there is capacity to deliver.	Lisa Gilfillan 01307 476351

Adult Literacy and Numeracy	information about how to increase the profile of your business.		√	√			There are no specific targets for young learners at this stage. At present 60 young people between the ages of 16 and 25 are engaged in community based provision and a significantly higher number on programmes with Angus College (as part of wider courses)	There are good and improving connections between adult literacy provision and the 16+ learning Choices development - all young people on Activity Agreements who require literacy and numeracy support will have access. Anus College makes extensive provision as part of mainstream programmes. It also makes additional support available to students as required	Pam Mackie mackie@angus.gov.uk
Employability Programmes	Open employability programmes, for people of all ages		√	√			no reliable numbers available at this stage. Arrangements are being made to ensure that data for 16-24 year-olds is more reliably available in the future	The CLD Service is developing this strand of its work and connecting this to the 16+ agenda. Employability programmes run in 4 Angus communities and consideration is being given to whether this can and should be expanded. Referral links between SDS, Job Centre Plus and this provision are good	Pam Mackie mackie@angus.gov.uk
